Elizabeth Lucas Unveils Art-Decorated Furniture at High Point 2012

Wholesale Art Company Can Now Place Almost Any Print on a Headboard, Settee or Ottoman

The ottoman might not be the first place you'd think to look for original artwork. But at this year's High Point Market, The Elizabeth Lucas Company will show you a perfect example.

The mixed-media art company will feature new botanical and sea life prints – as well as the ability to place nearly any ELC print on a furniture piece – at High Point 2012.

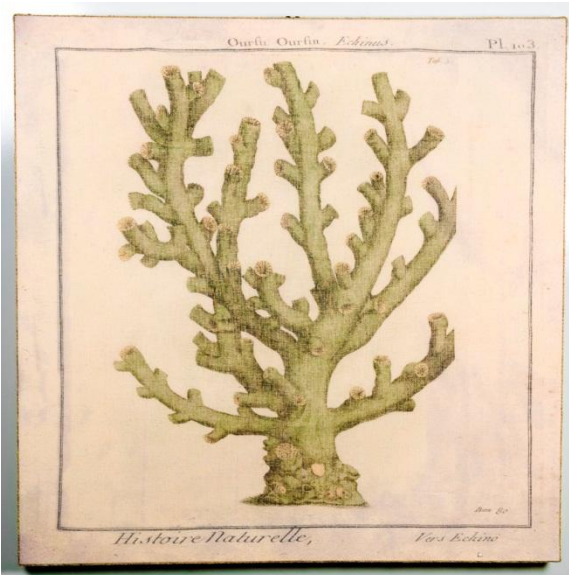

Artistic Headboards, Decorated Settees

Attendees will be the first to see new Elizabeth Lucas art-decorated furniture – like "The Jerry Ottoman" on the right, settees, and headboards.

Last year ELC debuted a line of ottomans, with Elizabeth Lucas prints emblazoned on them. This year the ottoman selection has been expanded, and headboards & settees added. All of which feature Elizabeth Lucas artwork.

They're intended as room accents, using ELC's trademark "new vintage" art style.

A limited number will be showcased at High Point. However, the company is now able to place virtually any ELC print on a headboard, settee or ottoman on request.

Sea Life Joining the Botanicals in Mixed-Media Print Art

As they did the last time the Elizabeth Lucas Company attended High Point, the company's bringing new artwork to the Market. This year, some new botanicals and sea life prints, such as "Coral 3" to the left.

"Coral 3" is a multi-layer print, made in ELC's Idaho studio with their green printing process. Its soft tone and flowing dynamic make it a relaxing piece for living room walls and hallways.

The Elizabeth Lucas Company will be at Interhall Booth IH403 at the High Point Market in North Carolina, April 21 to 26.
